NEWPORT DAILY NEWS

Revolutionary Reminiscence Capture of the British Gen. Prescott by the American Lt. Col. Barton.

Concluded. I gave them all the intelligence which had peen obtained, the situation of the house where the General quartered, the part each must act, and in short, every particular of the intended enterprise; the officers then very readily consented to what I had proposed. After giving them the most solecular of the control of least hint of our enterprise, we returned to Bristol, where we staid till the 6th, at night, when about 9 o'clock, P. M., we embarked, and crossed Narragansett Bay, landed on Worwick Neck, from whence we meant to take our departure for the island. 7th the wind came in from the E. N. E., which brought on a storm, and retarded the execution of the plan. On the 9th, the venther was fair; but there were several weather wes fair; but there were several new obstacles which hindered our going.— The next day, being the 9th, the weather was promising, and every thing appeared to invite us to that enterprise. The boats were now numbered, and every one assigned his loat and sear; to every hoat there was one continuously the transfer of the I directed the commanding officer of the lost at the store to keep a good lookout; and if he should hear three distinct muskets, to come on to the north end of Prudence, to ake us off—for we had reason to fear that the men of war would send out their boats and cut us off from the main. We were costed in the front, with a pole about ten eet long, and a handkerchief tied to the end, so that my hoat might be known from he others, and that none might go before lence and Patience, in order that the shining which lay against Hope isle might not iliscover us. We rowed under the west side of Prudence till we came to the south end, of Prudence till we came to the south end, when we heard the enemy on board the thips ery out, "all's well-" When we were within about three quarters of a mile of Rhode Island, we heard a great noise like the counting of horses. This threw a contraction over the minds of the whole party that magnetic age that disease the party; has no one space, as I that given the most positive orders not to have one syllable uthered. Thinking on the matter for a moment, I was sure that the enemy could and concluded it must be horses running as they often do. We now pushed for the they often do. We now pushed for the shore. There was a man left to each boat to keep them ready for a retreat. We soon arrived at the house where the General quartered. The entrance into it was be three doors, on the south, the east, and west. The first division was to attack the south door, the second the west, the third the east, the fourth to guard the road, the fifth to get in expression. fifth to act in emergencies. We left the guard house on our left, and on our right was a small house where a party of light-horse quartered, in order to carry orders from the General to any part of the island. When we opened the gate of the front yard, the sentinel, who stood about twenty-live yards from me leable that yard, the seramet, who stood about twenty-five vards from us, halled "who comes there?" We gave no answer, but continued marching on. There being a row of trees helween us and the sentinel, and he could not well discover our number: he again hailed "who comes there?" We answered "friends." He now replied, "friends advance and give the contensign." We spoke as though in a great passion, and said, "we have no countersign; have you seen any deserters to-night?" This had been previously contrived as a decoy, which had the desired effect; for before he suspected us to be enemies, we had hold of his musket, told him he was a prisoner, and if he made the least noise he should be shot. We asked him if General Prescott was in the house. He was so frightened, that at first he could not speak; but at last, with a faltering voice and waving his hand towards the house, he said yes. But by this time the divisions having taken their stations, the doors were burst open. We first went into a chamber where we saw a Mr. Overing—the General was not there. We went into another chamber where Mr. Overing's was and he said the General was not there. I then went to the head of the stair-way and called for the soldiers to set the house on fire, for we were determined to have the General dead or alive; on this we went be low and called for General Prese tt; we heard a voice saying, what is the matter? I proceeded from whence it came, and entering a room saw a man just ising out of bed, and clapping him on the shoulder, asked him if he was General Present: he replied yes, sir. I told him he was my prisoner, he rejoined I acknowledge it, sir! I desired him to hurry; he requested he might be allowed to put his cothes on: I told him very few, for our business required haste. In the mean time, Major Barrington, the General's add-de-camp finding the house was attached, jumped out of the window, but by the time he was on the ground, ing a room saw a man just ising out of dew, but by the time he was on the ground, was secured a prisoner. After the General had slipped on a few clothes, we marched for the shore. We desired the General to for the short. We desired the General to put one arm over my shoulder and the other over one of the officer's, that he might go with the greater case and despatch. Major Barrington and the sentinel were kept in the middle of the party. In a little time we came to the shore. The General seeing the came to the shore. The General seeing the five small boats, and knowing in what manner the shipping lay, appeared much con-bised, and asked me if I commanded the party. I told him I did; he said I hope; you will not hurt me; I assured him while in my power, he should not be injured.— Before we got to the boats we put on the: Before we got to the boats we put on the General's coat, for as yet he had only or waistcoat, brevehes, and slippers. We were very soon seated in our heats, the General in No. 1. After we had gotten a short distance from the shore we heard these same tance from the shore, we heard three can-nons and saw three sky rockets, which was the signal for an alarm. It was fortunate for us that the cucmy on board the shipping could not know the cause of it, as they might with case have cut bff our return to the main. We proceeded on till broad day-light, when we landed at Wurwick neck, the place from whence we took our departure, having been gone about six hours and a half. The General, when on shore, turned hair. The General, when on shore, turned towards the island; and beholding the shipping, said to me: Sir, you have made a danned hold push to-night; I replied we had been fortunate. We sent to the nearest house, where the General and his aid-decays were asked if the great of the sent to the nearest house. rouse, where the treneral and manade-camp were asked if they would rest them-selves with sleep, which they did. In the meantime we went to Warwicktown for a horse and chaise, with orders to the tayern here and chase, with orders to the tavern keeper there to procure the best breakfast gossible for the General and his aid-decump, and sent an express to Major General Spencer, at Providence, communicating success of our enterprise. It was not effect the arrival of a coach, which mere that despatched to conduct the providence. I ac-

E. Toursee, Esq., is hereby authorized to transact for us any business connected with the News and Journal office, of this rity,

The Fashionable Cottages at Newport Preparing for hard times.

On the 2d inst, we published a paragraph stating that a large number of the fashionable cottages and rural villias on the island of Newport, in the little State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, had been found too expensive for those who had con-structed them, and were consequently offered for sale or to lesse. Some of the little, on for sale or to lesse. Some of the little, mean, vulgar, lying, silly journals in that locality, not liking the appearance of the above mentioned facts, with the aid of a few correspondents worked up a "leader" exclusively for the benefit of the HERALD, and had the audacity to deny its statements. We have since taken the trouble to look over the udvertising columns of one of those sith. the advertising colums of one of these stilly papers, and find that our statements were strictly in accordance with facts, and we feel warranted in reiterating the assertion that those cottages have been found to be a luxury entirely too expensive even for our Fifth avenue residents, during the approaching revulsion which is menacing the business world. There are advertised in the Newport News alone, as follows:

March 2, cottages to let and lease 63 March 14 March 17 March 19

Besides those, the well known Ocean House, and a number of other first class hotels and private boarding houses are up in market.

For the benefit of those who have not yet becoming initiated into the mysteries of owning a summer residence at Newport, we give below a couple of advertisements descriptive of those cottages :--

For sule-Valuable property on Bellevue avenue, the summer residence of the late Christopher Wolfo, of New York city, situ-ated on Bollevue avenue, adjoining the country seats of Messrs. Parkman, Bancroft and Parish. The property consists of dwelling, stable and porter's lodge, with about five acres of land, extending from the avenue to the Ocean. The house is a spacious frame building, filled in with bricks in the Italian style, and finished throughout in the very best manner, containing all the imrery oest matner, containing all the improvements and conveniences of a modern city house. The grounds are tastefully laid out, planted with a large variety of ornamental trees, flowering shrubbery, &c., and ornamented with statuary—the whole in perfect order. The location is unsurpassed, commanding extensive views of the occar, and manding extensive views of the ocean and surrounding country; and being situated in a neighborhood containing elegant and permanent improvements, renders it one of the most desirable private residences on the handsome, will be sold with the place, if required. Immediate possession given.

We learn that the above place has been sold for $35,000 to a gentleman of this city, who will probably be glad to sell it in a year for 825,000, if the money market con ti long as it promises to be. The following is another elephant :-

To let-Furnished in the most thorough manner, for the summer of 1857, the large cottage in John steet, containing three parlors, dining room, six sleeping rooms for family, three or four for servants large basement kitchen, supplied with hot and cold water, bath room, water closet and hand basin, butler's sink room with hat and cold The parlors and dining room, sleeping room and kitchen, are all prepar ed for lighting with gas; it has been point of inside and out, and papered this season.—
The parlors have new Brussels carpets, and are otherwise improved. The above cottaage has been occupied successively by Joseph Cooledge, Esq. of Boston; A.G. Stout, Esq., of New York; Andrew Ritchie, Esq., of Boston; Philip Allen, Jr., Esq., of Providence; Gen. De Yearmloff, of Paris, and the past summer by Augustus Cason Esq., of New York,

One season seems to have been quite sufficient to satisfy each of the above named occupants. It may be interesting to know that these cottages rent for from five hundred to two thousand dollars for a season seldom extending for a longer period than three months. Thus we go.

The above is from the New York Herald Bonnie Bennett!! Sweet tempered Ben | with Napie and Who but our handsome and good natured Scotch friend would have been inspired with such a sense of litness, as fo' have written the above on "All Fools Day" The Herald evidently wishes to be "written down an Ass" and it gives us great pleasure to grant its reasonable desire. It is a good plan for a Journal of the Herald's pretensions to know something of a subject of which it treats. But no, it doesn't even know that Newport is a city, but innocently speaks of the "Island of Newport," Funny fellow! too much learning has nothing to do with his madness. Newport "the Island" is "going down" he says, yet by his own showing there were, from March 14th to March 19th no less than 13 cottages rented at prices varying from $500 to $2000 to Every body knows, (except Bennett, who is undeniably a natural K. N.) that these cotages were built to rent, and therefore that .t is quite natural for them to be advertised, and rented, and as there are some 150 to 200 of them, it is a matter of no surprise that 78 of them should be for rent on the 14th day of March. No! my dear fellow, you have been very successful in your late efforts, first by securing the Presidential nomination to "LIVE OAK [GEORGE," next by electing Mr. Fremont in the way you did, and lastly by writing the "Tribune's into the largest circulation in the world by applying to it the pet names of "Abolition-

us. We are a quiet case-loving, people ;-We do not court that prosperity, with which your editorial attacks threaten us, nor do we wish to exchange for the bustle, confusion, and hum of business, the privilege which we now enjoy of listening to the song of the ever sounding sea, and undisturbed communion with nature in her hours of wild excitement, and of placid and glowing harmony.

Say, Bonnie Bennett, will you not indulge us in this? Slander some town more deserving the accrucing prosperity than we.

A CHILD'S IDEA OF WASHINGTON, -A short time since, a little boy of four summers, whose parents reside in Lynn, was carefully examining some pictures, among which was one of the tomb of Washington. Taking the picture up, he asked his mother "what that picture was;" he was told that it was the picture of Washington's tomb. The little fellow thought a moment, and looking up, said:

"Mother, I dont see how they ever got so great a man as Washington into a tomb!"

But my little fellow, they didn't get him into the tomb. He was put anywhere and everywhere else rather there. And the 4th of July he always appears, through the various mediums of rappings, tippings, tipsyings, Speaking and spouting, bellringing and Cannon. A most obiquious spirit is that same G corge the Surveyor. Probably some crack Theologian in the sphere philosophy will prove his deity one of these days because of his omnipresence on the 4th of July.

We learn from the Advertiser that the following appointments have been made in RHODE ISLAND.

FDIEND DAVIS:—Although a stranger to you, I take the liberty of addressing a few lines to you, for the purpose of saying a few words in favor of your invaluable medicine. I have used your Pain Killer for a mumber of years, and for bowed complaint and hurns, and in fact for pains of all kinds, I think it pre-en intent—Before I became acquainted with year medicine, I had a violent attack of dy sentery, which reduced me very low, in fact my friends thought I could not survive, but by the treatment of a Botanic Physiciam, the best remedy I then knew, I receivered. Since then, I have had several attacks, one very violent, abunt four years ago. I was attacked at 3 three o'clock in the morning, and at sourise, I was not able to get off my bed, I sent and got a twenty-five cent bottle of your Pain Killer, which I commenced taking, according to directions, and at six o'clock in the eventing my howels were regular, and I was up and I moving about, although somewhat weak. I would recommend to all similarily affilied, to avail themselves of your invaluable medicine.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

The sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these Pills have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary melicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Th trating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disor dered organs into their natural action, and impart health; one with strength to the whole system. Not only t they cure the every-day complaints of every body, by also formidable and dangerous diseases that have bafflot the best of human skill. While they produce powerfu effects, they are at the same line, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children Being sugar-coated, they are phessant to take; and being purely regetable, are free from any risk of harm. Gara have been made which surpass belief were they not sub antiated by mon of such exalted position and characte as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminen rman and physicians have lent their names to certi fy to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that operations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fullow-men.

AREMEDY which CURES IN FIVE A MINUTES.—M. LEROUX'S Franch Cholera Cognac Bitters. This truly wonderful acientific compound is recommended by the most eminent and learned physicians of all most eminent and learned physicians of all most eniment and learned physicians of all Europe and America, and enjoys the best reputation of anything similar ever offered. It is without doubt, the best most efficient and generally acknowledged remedy against cholera, dysentery, diarrhoes, and complaints of the stomach in general. The numerous patients who have tried it according to directions have invariably found relief in a very short time, and the best proof of it is, that since this standard remedy was introduced in the armies of the Allies in the Crimea, the mortality of the soldiers from cholera and similar diseases was diminished by over 76 per cent; in consideration of which, the inventor was presented by the French and English governments was duminished by over 70 per tent; in consideration of which, the inventor was presented by the French and English governments with a gold medal, bearing the inscription, "Hail! M. Leroux, the great chemist and inventor, by whose knowledge our armies are preserved from cholera."

This invaluable preparation is also a remedy for billiousness, indigestion, weakness, and general derangement of the stomach. Upon being taken, it creates appetite, and prevents the heaviness attendant upon eating by persons who are dyspeptic.

In this city, also this remedy has been tried with the most undoubted success, and the undersigned can produce the best testimonials of our most celebrated physicians, as to its immediate and complete success, which he will be happy at any time to show to any that may wish to see them.

From the editor of the Real Estate Adver itser No. 2 School Street.

Boston, March 20, 1855.

Prof. Wood—Dear Sir—Having become prematurely quite gray, I was induced some 6 weeks since, to make a trial of your Hair Restorative. I have used less than two battles, but the gray hairs have disappeared; and although my hair has not fully attained its original color, yet the change is gradually going on, and I have great, hopes that in a short time my hair will be ast dark as formerly. I have also been much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair, which, before was harsh and dry, and it has ceased to come out as formerly.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir—I take pleasure in hearing voluntary testimony to the magic effects of your wonderful Hair Restor ative. As far back as 1856 my hair commenced falling off until the top of my scalp became bald and smooth as glass, and it has continued to fall off for a great many years, notwith standing I have used many celebrated preparations for its restoration. Sueing your advertisement I was induced to give your article a trial, and to my utter astonishment I found after a few applications that my hair became firmly set and lassured by very glossy and beautiful appearance; and at the time I had used a quart bottle, my hald head was cover dover with a young and vigorous growth of hair, which is now from one to two inches in length, and growing very fast.
